

MyBookXXX Country Report (Excerpt)

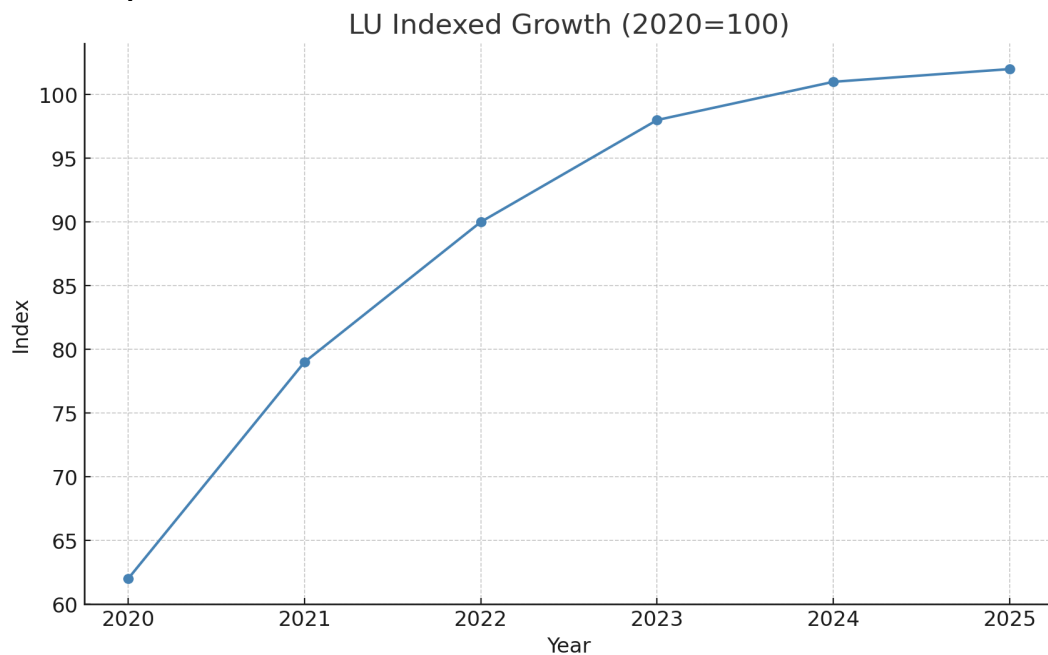

Luxembourg (LU), Portugal (PT), Spain (ES), and France (FR)

Prepared by: MyBookXXX Data & Insights

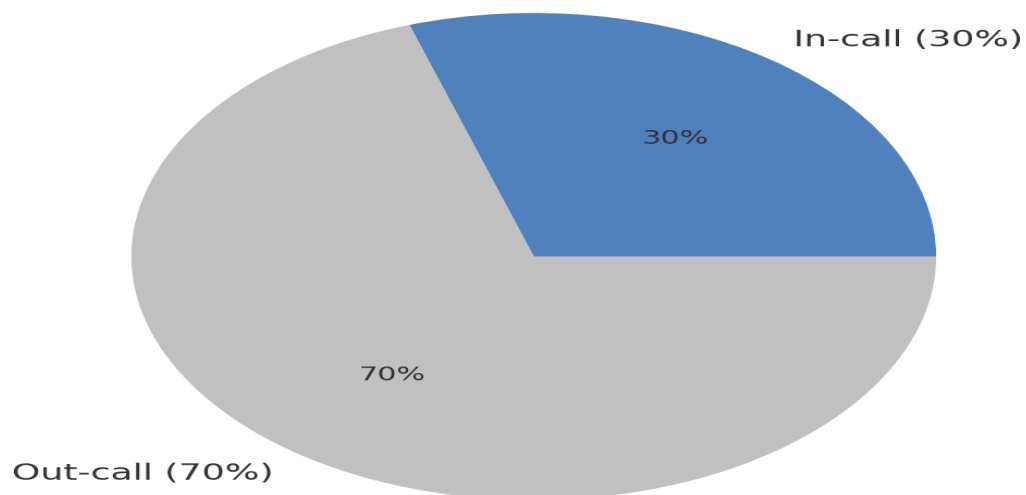

Date: September 2025

Luxembourg (LU)

Market Development 2020–2025

LU In-call vs Out-call

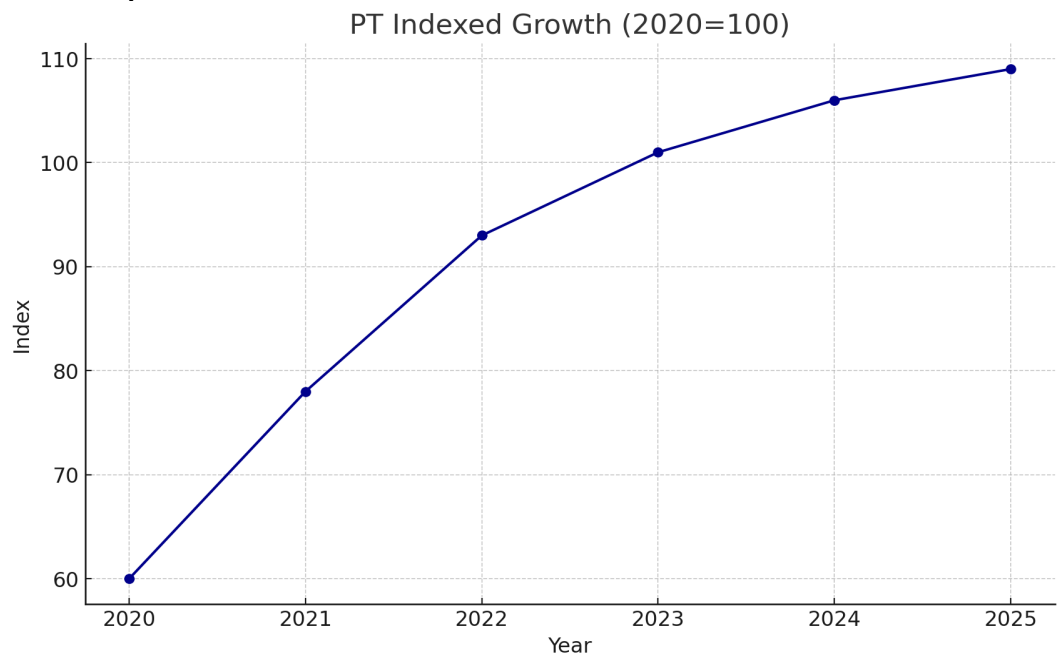

Service	Share
Hotel Out-call	60%
Overnights	20%
Dinner Companionship	15%
FMTY / Travel	5%

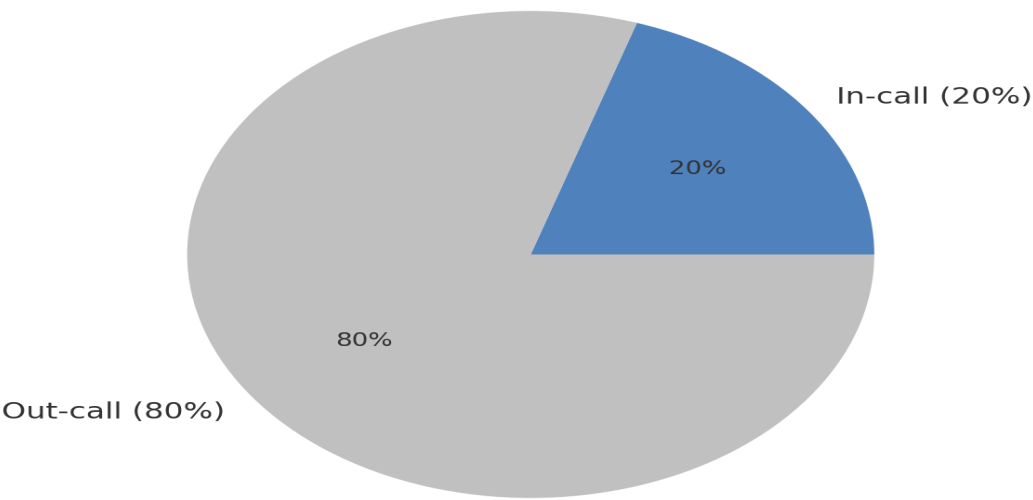

Luxembourg's small market relies on expats and business travellers. Selling sex is legal, but brothels and third-party profiteering are illegal. Out-call dominates demand, especially to hotels. The market is stable but limited in growth potential.

Portugal (PT)

Market Development 2020–2025

PT In-call vs Out-call

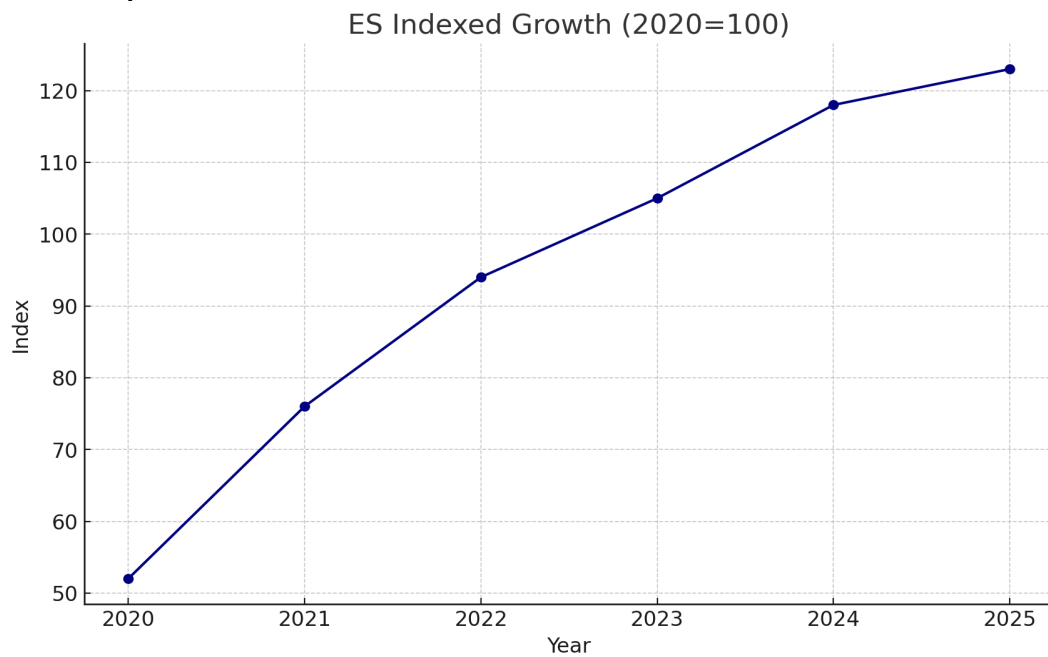

Service	Share
Hotel Out-call	55%
Overnights	25%
Dinner Companionship	15%
FMTY / Travel	5%

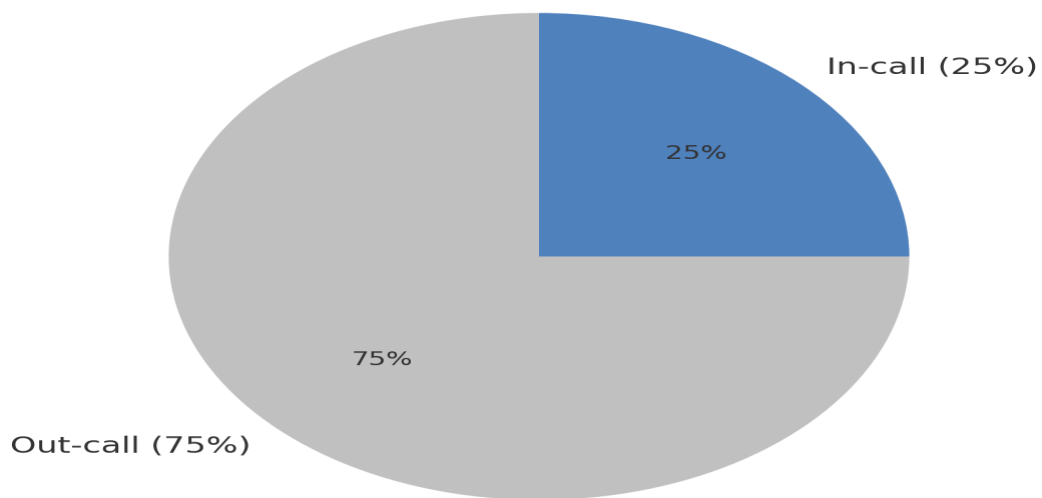

Portugal allows sex work but prohibits pimping and brothels. The market is driven by tourism in Lisbon, Porto, and the Algarve. Out-call dominates demand. Growth has been strong since 2022 with tourism recovery.

Spain (ES)

Market Development 2020–2025

ES In-call vs Out-call

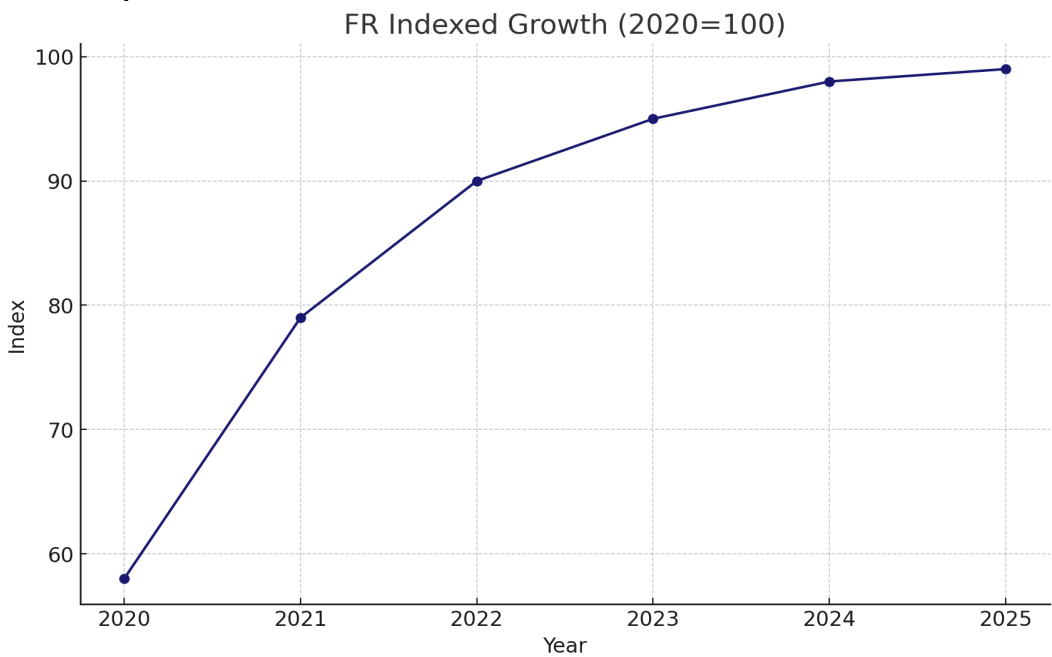

Service	Share
Hotel Out-call	50%
Overnights	25%
Dinner Companionship	20%
FMTY / Travel	5%

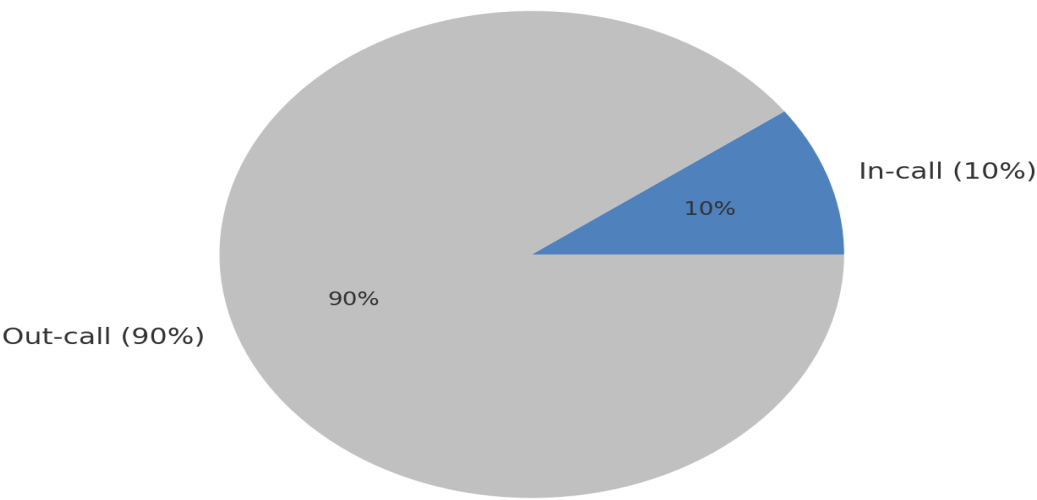

Spain's market is large and tourism-driven, with Barcelona, Madrid, and Valencia as hotspots. Sex work itself is not criminalised, but pimping and brothels are illegal. Out-call dominates demand. Growth is strong, with Spain being one of the fastest growing markets post-COVID.

France (FR)

Market Development 2020–2025

FR In-call vs Out-call

Service	Share
Hotel Out-call	60%
Dinner Companionship	25%
Overnights	10%
FMTY / Travel	5%

France criminalises the purchase of sex (since 2016), though sex work itself is decriminalised. This legal environment heavily restricts in-call services, leading to a market dominated by hotel out-call bookings. Growth is muted compared to neighbouring countries, and enforcement campaigns continue to create uncertainty.